

January 2024

Dear Friends,

We hope your year is off to a great start! The new year always brings a feeling of renewal, energy and possibility. Each new year, our mission is to get more Comfort Cubs into the arms of as many hurting people as possible by expanding into new areas of use.

Some of our goals for this year include providing increased support to adults and children going through cancer treatment, expand to more hospitals throughout the United States, help families and children working through the legal system and continue to support school mental wellness programs.

February is an important month as we focus on healing hearts by making our annual visit to all of our local hospitals here in San Diego. We will distribute Comfort Cubs and talk with doctors, nurses, and social workers about Broken Heart Syndrome and the therapeutic benefits of The Comfort Cub.

None of these goals and expansion opportunities would be possible without the amazing help we get from you, our donors, supporters and volunteers. We never forget this. Thank you!

Wishing you much happiness and good health this coming year! We are so grateful for your continued love and support.

Warmly,

Marcella

Supporting Families

Rady Children's Chadwick Center is an accredited children's advocacy center (CAC). It is one of the largest hospital-based CACs and trauma treatment centers in the nation. They provide family-focused and trauma-informed services to children and adolescents who may have experienced or witnessed maltreatment, abuse or violence.

The Chadwick Center invited us to be their guests at the 39th Annual San Diego International Conference of Child and Family Maltreatment. We were able to make lots of good connections for new avenues of interest in The Comfort Cub both nationally and internationally. We feel honored to partner with such a prestigious worldwide organization.

February 14th is "Heal-A-Heart Day"

February is the month of love. Everywhere you look there are reminders with flowers, candy and red hearts. But what about all the people suffering from broken hearts? Those who have recently lost a loved one?

Our goal is to get The Comfort Cub to those whose hearts are hurting. Would you help us? Every $50 donation provides a Comfort Cub to someone in need.

Around here we call Valentine's Day "Heal-A-Heart Day." Throughout the month, we focus on educating people about Broken Heart Syndrome. We also visit all of the hospitals in San Diego to distribute Comfort Cubs. With your help, we are able to support grieving moms and families in their darkest moments. Thank you for your continued support. You are helping to heal hearts across America!

My daughter was a stillbirth. The worst words a mother can hear are "there's no heartbeat." I'm dealing with guilt and horrible ppd and ptsd from that day. My 3 year old daughter is also suffering. It would provide us so much comfort to have a weighted bear I could cuddle with and have. Thank you for all you do." - A.K.

"I am a school counselor requesting a donation for a student who has had 3 significant losses in her life recently. This student is experiencing deep sadness and guilt. I was recently at a conference where I was encouraged to reach out to you. A Comfort Cub could greatly help her." - D.P.
